CROKER'S TRAINER LICENSED BY ENGLISH JOCKEY CLUB.

One of Corrigan's Former Lieutenants Talks of Anti-American Sentiment-Stewards to Consider Date Tangle To-day—Fight Between Fitz and O'Brien Probable.

Richard Croker's Irish trainer, Parkinson, has received a license from the English Jockey Club which will permit him to train the Croker thoroughbreds in England this year, This armooncement, coming as it does so soon after the burring of Mr. Croker's horses from training facilities at Newmarket Heath, would seem to indicate that the former Tammany chief is not in so much disfavor after The Croker incident has stirred up all of the old stories about the anti-American feeling on the British turf, and one of Edward Corrigan's men, Charles Doherty, who helped to manage the Chicago turfman's string while it was campaigned in England, has these interesting comments to make; "The theory of Newmarket Heath being crowded may explain the reason why Mr. Croker was asked to withdraw his horses. But I believe, and so will others who were in England in 1901, that in bidding against the King's representative on yearling purchases Croker subjected himself to punishment to be expected by an American owner from prejudiced British turn rule.

With a million American dollars, however,

a few years at a time "
Doherty, who has retired from the turf and is now a member of the Mississippi Legis-lature, declares that in 1901 Enoch Wishard All v and John Huggins were both warned not to bid on yearlings that attracted the attention will be allowed to race at Newmarket, but he looks for many petty annoyances, which in time will cause Mr. Croker to withdraw from the English turf altogether, just as Messrs. Keene. Whitney, Eugene Leigh, Drake, Corrigan and other Americans did. While Doherty probably speaks from experience, it may be said that many conservative turfmen do not place much faith in the story that because Mr. Croker bid on certain yearlings that were wanted by King Edward the English Jockey Club resorted to such small methods in order to square accounts with him. The fact that Mr. Croker did not formally ask permission to have his horses trained at Newmarket before sending did not formally ask permission to have his horses trained at Newmarket before sending them there is probably the sole reason for the tangle which has caused so much inter-

Edward Corrigan's opponents are predicting certain failure for the revolutionary movement against the Western Jockey Club. which will probably be launched this week after a final confab at Hot Springs. They declare that if there is a war racing will be prohibited in the State of Illinois, which vill settle all of the Chicago tracks, including Corrigan's Hawthorne Park. They also insist that the new track at New Orleans cannot hope to be successful, because it will have to buck up against the Crescent City Jockey Club's track at all times. Furthermore, they point to the fact that Union Park, St. Louis, which will be controlled by Corrigan, was a big loser last year as an outlaw in conflict with the Cella-Adler-Tiles tracks in the Mound City, and that there is no reason why it should make money this year with the fight still on. In Hot Springs, Corrigan's opponents declare that a fight between Essex Park, allied with him, and Oaklawn Park, controlled by John Con-den, would be disastrous for both tracks.

League is a very interesting one this year,

The stewards of the Jockey Club are expected to hold a meeting to-day at the Windsor Arcade to discuss the tangle over the allotment of racing dates for the coming campaign on the Eastern turf. That the

If both men mean business, Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack O'Brien should have no trouble in making a match to decide the middleweight championship at 138 pounds. Fitz has offered to Beht twenty rounds for a $5,000 side het and O'Brien has practically accepted the terms. Next thing is the signing of articles, which involves a mimber of minor details. Fitz says he will have no trouble in making the weight and insists that he can get down to 138 pounds, his weight when he knocked Corbett out at Carson City. O'Brien will have no trouble on this score and thinks that in a long drawn out fight he would have much the better of the argument. O'Brien and Ryan are sizing up the Cornishman on what he did in his twenty round fight with George Gardner. Fitz's bands gave out in that affair and Gardner stayed. Since then the old man bas been giving his "mauleys" a long rest and has bobbed up with his war-like utterances probably because he is confident that his fists will prove as tough as ever the next time they go against a jaw or a solar plexus.

Sam Austin believes that a professional boxing bill properly framed and introduced by the "right people" at Albany would have a chance to pass. Give the agricultural societies up the State a chance to get some more of the easy money turned over to them by the racetracks. Said the former boxing referee yesterday, "and boxing will be legalized. Taking the corbett-Metov fight in the Garden as an illustration, the State, on a 10 per cent, tax, would have received more than $5,000, as the gross receipts for that affair were $52,000. Boxing conducted under the auspices of a State commission, with a State tax in operation, would yield to the State institutions $75,000 a year at the very lowest. But the bill, if introduced would have to have the right kind of backing, in addition

Joe Schildt, a 200 pound Indian who lives in Seattle, wants to break into the prize ring. He can play football and is a ciant in point of physical development. But he knows nothing of the fine points of boxing as yet, which means that he would be an easy mark, unless rough and tumble rules prevailed.

Jimmr Collins, manager of the Boston world's charapions, says he is after a third pennant. He intends to strengthen his great team wherever he can. Collins thinks that Jesse Burkett will be a powerful addition to the champions and that he will probably take Selbach's place in left field. The pitching will be done as usual by Young, Dineen, Gibson, Tannehull and Winter, with several young twirlers to be heard from Charley Farrell, Louis Criger, Doran and McGovern are the buckstops. George Lachance will have to hustle if he wants to play first base again, as Collins has Grimshaw chance will have to mustle if he wants to play first base agoin, as Colline has Grimshaw from Buffalo and Schaffer, a "phenom" from Butte, who are after the bag. Frank De Haas Robison of the St. Louis Nationals has begun a vigorous crusade against the so-called fake sales of ball players, a practice that has grown into a scandal in baseball. Robison says that there should be legislation on this evil and that the National Commission should receive power to punish offending clubs severely. The case of the Brooklyn club is cited as an example. The whole Baltimore Eastern League team, owned by Edward Hanlon, the Brooklyn manager, was drafted by Brooklyn last fail. All of the players will go back to the Baltimore club in the spring with one exception. The Brooklyn club, all told, had fifty-four players on its rolls a month ago.

"I never wilted before the language of but one baseball captain, 'said Sir Timothy Hurst to a circle of fans the other day, "and that was Patsy Tebeau. It happened in a game over in Boston when a confusing play came up which caused me to hesitate a few seconds before straightening out the tangle. While I was meditating, I saw the gentlemanly Tebeau rushing toward me.

"Go back! I yelled. 'I want to think!"

"Listen, Mr. Hurst, 'cried Patsy, 'be careful what you do, for your future depends on this decision. If you cannot illuminate your work, please don't obfuscate it!"

"That settled it! 'Obfuscate' won the point in dispute and I decided in favor of Tebeau. But'l wonder where he dug up that word? Maybe he heard Jess Burkett or Jack O'Connor use it!"

Professional golfers are to have recognition this year in Massachusetts, which is the Mr. Croker can make the Newmarket stewards come to his own terms. It is a well the New Jersey State open championship known matter of record that Douglas Baird, last fall at Lakewood. At the annual meeting who was known in this country as 'Squire' of the Massachusetts State Golf Association Abington, forced the Newmarket people to make practical apology for having publicly championship, in addition to the usual amahumiliated him by one of their rulings, which did not charge him with fraud on or off the links. Willie Dunn, American champion of 1894 and the pioneer of the professionals in this country, is to undergo a surgical operation this week under Dr. J. Bayard Clark, at the Trinity Hospital. Dunn has not had prosperous days of late and is in urgent need. Many of the links about this city were first laid out by Dunn, and, while he always worked on broad lines that at the time were sometimes in advance of what seemed needed, his courses have been always of the uplifting and beneficial sort to the players and a help to the permanent establishment of the game.

League is a very interesting one this year, and the fight between the three strong teams promises to be very close. The Creacent A. C. team is in the lead, so far, with three straight victories. The Wanderers, the champions of last year, and the Hockey Club each have one defeat scored against them. The Crescents defeated the Hockey Club and the Hockey Club defeated the Wanderers. It would seem by this record that the Crescents should win from the Wanderers, but bookey is an uncertain game and the but hockey is an uncertain game and the weakest team is likely to score against a very strong one in any game. COUNTRY RUNNING.

MANY PACKS COMPETE IN CHASES OVER HILL AND DALE.

O. Ordwein Wins From L. Marks in Close Race of Pastime A.C .- Mohawks Represented by Two Divisions-Metropolitan Oarsmen Indulge in a Three Mile Spin.

Local cross country runners were busy yesterday and all the packs turned out in force at the different points of meeting. It was good weather for the short, though the going was somewhat muddy in places.

The Mohawk A. C., always to the fore with plenty of hill and dale material, sent out two packs. One covered a course of two and a quarter miles and only a quartet took part in this. Andy Mackechnie was the first man to finish and his time was 12 minutes 30 sec to finish and his time was 12 minutes 30 seconds. R. Doody was close up, his time being 12 minutes 31 seconds. L. M. Doctor was third in 12 minutes 32 seconds, and J. Raab was fourth in 12 minutes 38 seconds. The larger squad covered five miles which extended from the clubhouse on 158th street and Walton avenue, over Gerard avenue to Jerome avenue as far as 185th street and back. The runners finished as follows: T. Lorz, 30 minutes 15 seconds: Boyle, 31 minutes 35 seconds; O. Lorz, 31 minutes 35 seconds; W. Platt, 31 minutes 36 seconds; J. Palmer, 32 minutes 52 seconds; G. Lienbeck, 33 minutes, J. Zurnieden, 35 minutes; J. Maxey, 35 minutes, J. Seconds, and J. Bruce, 35 minutes 6 seconds.

The Pastime A. C. men mustered at Huber's Casino on Jerome avenue and ran from there to Mosholu Parkway and back. The distance was 5; miles and Crdwein and Marks had a nip and tuck fight for the lead all the way. "Mike" Spring was not far off the leaders. However, Ordwein had a little more strength and crossed the line a winner. Following are the runners and their times.

Dual Meets for Columbia Athletes.

Won Lost PC Manager Graham of the Columbia freshman track team is busily arranging dual meets for the class team with several which have answered his letters about dates. The first reply was from the High School of Commerce. Attempts will be made to hold a meet indoors in some armory about the first part of February. Peckskill Military Academy, De Witt Clinton High School and Barnard School have written seeking meets, and Yale freshmen are not averse to the idea. A meet between Columbia and Yale freshmen might be held as part of the indoor games of some school. The programme probably would contain about eight events, eliminating, of course, the hammer throw, broad jump and pole vault in the field events, and having but one sprint and one hurdle race on the track.

Columbia's track management, by the way, is banking on getting several of the star track men of the High School of Commerce, Richard Geis and Kenneth McAipin, both valuable performers at short distances, will probably choose the Morningside Institution. Most of the men who were with the exhibits in Madison Square Garden had left the city lost night, some going to their homes for a much needed rest before the opening of the other national show in Chicago on Feb-4, and others going to Philadelphia, where a week's local show opens to-night. The exodus to Florida continued all day yesterday and last night. One party of Tammany Hall men, including Commissioner of Sewers Mathew Donohue, chartered a special cart that was attached to an afternoon train.

All of the exhibits, with the exception of a long machine minus front wheels, were cleared off the floor of the Garden yesterday afternoon and laborers were busy tearing up the special flooring of two inch boards before putting the dancing floor in place. The restaurant still had two machines to be taken out, while there were four exhibits left in the basement, all of the cars being covered over so that in the dim light they looked like shrouded ghosts of the departed glories of the show. Many of the exhibits were given over to the charge of the express companies for shipment to Philadelphia or Chicago as soon as the show was officially closed.
